Keely's Forty Laws of Sympathetic Vibratory Physics

To know and understand Keely's science of Sympathetic Vibratory Physics we need to understand the forty laws he left us. The first series of newsletters begun in 1985 and continuing until 1990 featured one of his laws every month. It was a pleasure to write all those articles digging ever deeper into his concepts and work. A lot was learned from that exercise so why not repeat the series all over again - writing from scratch about each law? My knowledge and insight into SVP since those early days has grown immensely so it is time for a fresh review of those laws.

Law of Force

"Energy manifests itself in three forms: Creative, the vibrating aggregate; Transmissive, being the propagation of isochronous waves through the media in which it is immersed; Attractive, being its action upon other aggregates capable of vibrating in unisons or Harmony." Keely, 1894

There are many important elements in this law. The Creative form can be anything or any frequency. But for it to be the Attractive form there must be sympathy or harmony as in same frequency or attuned frequency before there is resultant action/response; resonance. It goes without saying this same resonant condition must exist within the media of propagation for propagation, Transmissive, can happen. Discontinuities result in interference, resistance, attenuation and corresponding lack of transmission or propagation. These three conditions are of course the dynamic of sympathetic association, vibration and oscillation. Or as is now being called entanglement. All described in the Law of Sympathetic Association. Which by the way is the dynamic of all radio and TV function where the broadcasting and receiving antenna are sympathetic or in tune with each other while the atmosphere facilitates propagation.

Keely labeled each of these three conditions or states according to their range of actions within 65 octaves. The chart below groups these according to gamuts of 21 octave (more or less). The chart also includes the laws that govern or describe respective actions or states.

As governed by Law of Force

Force	Creative	Transmissive	Attractive	Law/Source
Sono-thermity	Sono-thermity	Sono-therm	Cohesion or Disintegration	Law of Sono-thermity

Solar Energy

Capturing and Using Free Energy from the Sun has gone Exponential

PSI Project Development

We have a number of projects in various stages of progress. Our Solar Concentrator designed extra large [8' X 8' mirror surface area] is to produce low pressure steam. Our building has an ancient but working low pressure steam heat system operating at or below 10 psi. Our furnace runs on expensive Natural Gas. This prototype Solar Concentrator will make steam that can be piped directly into the existing steam plumbing with minimal expense. This design is not intended to fully heat our building. It is designed to raise the background temperature as much as 10-20°F degrees during the day time. Should we desire more heat throughout the building we can replicate this unit as many times as needed.

Attaching the mirror

The frame is now complete. The process of attaching the mirrors to the frame is underway. Attaching the mirror to the frame has revealed a number of structure discrepancies that need correction before we can proceed. We also had to construct a "fitting fixture" that gently presses against the face of the mirror to hold it in alignment as it is attached to the frame.

There are several YouTube videos showing low pressure steam generating Solar Concentrator systems. One such video is HERE. Our reflecting surface is twice the square footage of the one in the video.

Solar Power Reaches 97% Efficiency

Scientists at The Australian National University (ANU) have set a world record for efficiency for a solar thermal dish generating steam that could be used for power stations. The team designed and built a new receiver for the solar concentrator dish at ANU, halving losses and achieving a 97% conversion of sunlight into steam. This is an amazing conversion percentage even higher than nuclear fission. See more here:

The Physics of Love 2.0

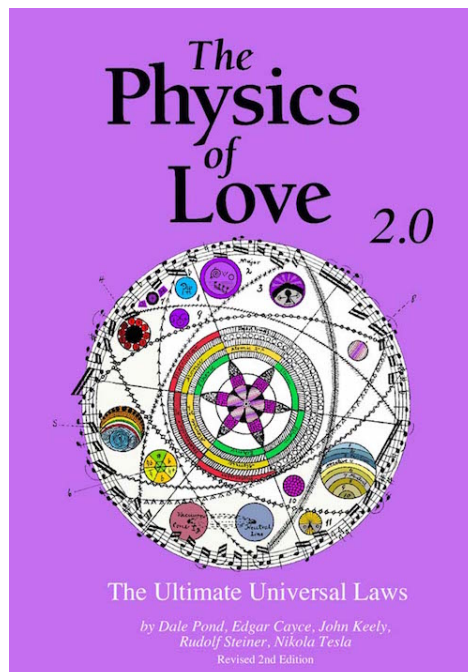

This new edition of The Physics of Love brings this important work up to date with what has been learned about SVP since the book was first published in 1994. This rewrite is a major rewrite and reorganization of old and new materials including many new illustrations detailing what Love is. The material is extensively referenced and footnoted. Those who have read the first edition will agree the material has been massively reworked into a coherent whole explaining the basic physics and connections of and between matter, energy, music, geometry, polarity, color, vibration, Love, Spirit and Mind. This 2.0 edition is dedicated to Dr. Masaru Emoto because of his fine work with vibrations and the power of thought on our environment and things in it. 162 pages, 8 1/2" X 11" Perfect Bound. The new 2.0 edition can be ordered here:

"This is your best book ever!" Jerry Williams

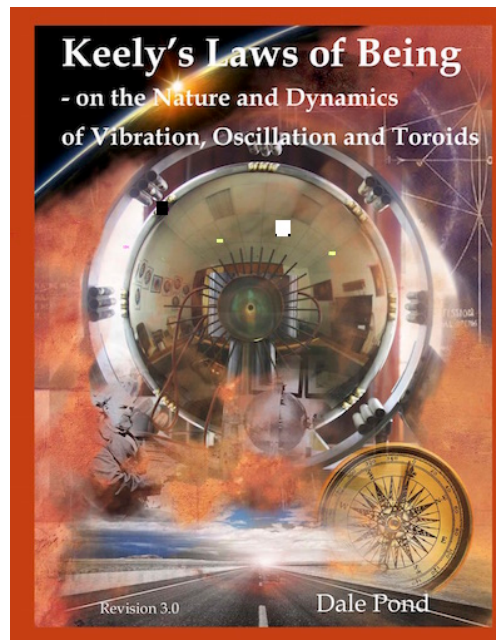

The Physics of Love 2.0

Keely's Laws of Being - 3, 6 & 9

Keely's "Laws of Being" appear to be the source of Nikola Tesla's famous quote: If you knew the magnificence of 3, 6 and 9, then you would have the key to the universe. In this book you will learn: 1) what Tesla thought so important about these numbers, 2) how to access this long lost knowledge, 3) how to apply it to your research, work and experiments, 4) that forces, of whatever kind, are a triune combination of subtler polar forces in discrete ratios and proportions, 5) what these subtler polar forces are, 6) all things are connected 7) what the connecting link is, why and how it works 8) all individuals are connected through laws and principles. This awareness, about the hitherto ignored inner nature of vibration, motion and power, can and will cause a massive yet positive shift in all branches of science, engineering and society as a whole. Keely's Laws of Being 3.0

Testimonials

"Brilliant! Dale, this is your best work ever. I can tell it is inspired. For the first time I can read at the beginning and it builds up mental images in a concise manner of how Keely was able to manipulate vibration, power, force and energy. Everyone interested in understanding Keely's work ought to read this book as a first introductory step."

Jerry Williams

"Your latest book, Keely's Laws of Being 3.0, is a joy for me to read. Like Jerry states, it is coherent. I find it logical, enlightened and enlightening. You have done a fantastic job of explaining physical phenomenon in terms of Keely and Russell, especially in terms of the sympathetic nature of Love. Those are ideas that I can hold in my consciousness during my daily activities. The act of observing and being aware of the sympathetic connection heightens and magnifies my experience of the joy, happiness and love in which we have our being." C.

"The most important book in my library. My obsession."
Jeremy Pfeiffer

"The edition I have is simply the best and over encompassing manual I ever studied." BC

Our purpose at the Pond Science Institute is to Awaken to higher levels of consciousness or Cause - not just phenomena on the 3D sense level (classical physics) of Effect. In the higher realm of Cause we work with ideas, intuition, art and subtle energy physics (nonclassical physics) thus building the Connecting Link between these two realms in Mind, Heart, Body and Energy. Three good examples of Awakened individuals are Edgar Cayce, Walter Russell, Phineas Quimby, Nikola Tesla and John Keely. We will stay focused on this purpose and mission.
